ABOUT ME

I, Navneet am currently a Computer Science Undergraduate Student at Eötvös Loránd University, Budapest with a keen interest in Computer Science, Mathematics and other related domains. My curiosity-driven attitude has resulted in me being enthusiastic and passionate about Computer Science and the rapidly-growing technology and I wish to explore the specialisations the industry has to provide. I am a hardworking, and optimistic individual. I always make sure to keep a high standard in whatever work I undertake. I can adapt to all sorts of work environments. I am a team player and prefer to operate in a team. I am competent in performing under pressure to satisfy deadlines with or without supervision.

As an active student, my skills include programming in C#, C++ and C, shell scripting and web development in HTML and CSS. I always strive to keep improving my skills and gain newer skills. I am also highly fluent in English with a band 8 score on the IELTS examination. Furthermore, I am confident that with the right mindset, I will be able to learn and gain new skills in a short time.

In addition, my recreations include Film-making, Photography and Video Post-Production along with writing blogs for my blog.
